

Notice to 3rd year Female Students

“We Govern Sri Lanka”

There will be workshops called “We Govern Sri Lanka” for 3rd year female students to motivate and encourage them to get involved in the Governance of Sri Lanka. This is with the objective of reaching out potential young female leaders and to initiate a dialogue while sharing ideas and experiences, learning the best practices and to encourage them to join decision making.

Three workshops will be held in this regard and the first 2 will be held on the following dates at the Ceylon Hall of the Faculty of Law.

1. 9th February 2019 (Saturday) 8.30-12.30

2. 23rd February 2019 (Saturday) 8.30-12.30

Date of the 3rd workshop will be notified later.

(Refreshments will be provided)

This workshop is limited to 40 students from all 3 medium and it will be tri-lingual.

Since there are limited seats students wish to participate in this programme are requested to register at the Dean’s Office on or before 4 p.m Tuesday 5th February 2019. It’s on ‘first come first served’ basis. Students who register are required to participate in all 3 workshops. Certificate will be given to all participants.

This workshop is sponsored by Hashtag Generation, a youth led nonpartisan organization working predominantly on youth engagement in Sri Lanka, as their focal point on legal matters. Over a period of three years, Hashtag Generation have been working on a series of projects to empower (young) women to take part in decision making and ultimately to run for elected office.
